About Mindphair

MindPhair is the job fair for mathematics, physics, and CSE students at ETH Zürich. Organised by a dedicated group of students, MindPhair aims to bring together the most interesting employers and young talents on the Swiss job market, helping students take their first steps and helping employers find future experts right at the start of their careers.

What's new

This year, MindPhair is growing — to offer students an even wider range of opportunities, we are introducing a brand-new category of booths dedicated to research and educational institutions. We are also working to make the event more dynamic and interactive, with activities such as our Startup Evening and, potentially, a hackathon. We're always eager to collaborate and bring fresh ideas to life, so do not hesitate to reach out if you have suggestions or projects you would like to see at MindPhair.

Our Offer

During this one-day fair, students will be looking for internships, trainee programs, research opportunities, and of course, direct employment positions. Our team will help your company reach up to 3,000 students by advertising the job fair with posters around campus, on social media and ETH online spaces, in lectures at ETH, and in the VMP newsletter. Additionally, we organise all infrastructure and help with possible side events so that you get to know students from a different perspective.

Booths

The MindPhair team will provide a rental booth placed in the main hall of ETH Zürich for all companies. We offer different booth size options. All booth areas are equipped with a power supply, Wi-Fi, lighting, one bar table, and two chairs. Company-owned material (e.g., banners/roll-ups, cabinets, tables, chairs) may be used as well. Any equipment or materials brought by your company must abide by Swiss fire protection standards. You also have the preferred option of ordering printed walls and various furniture directly from the fair construction company to make your booth look even more appealing. More detailed information on this will follow after confirmation of your participation.

Talks & Side Events

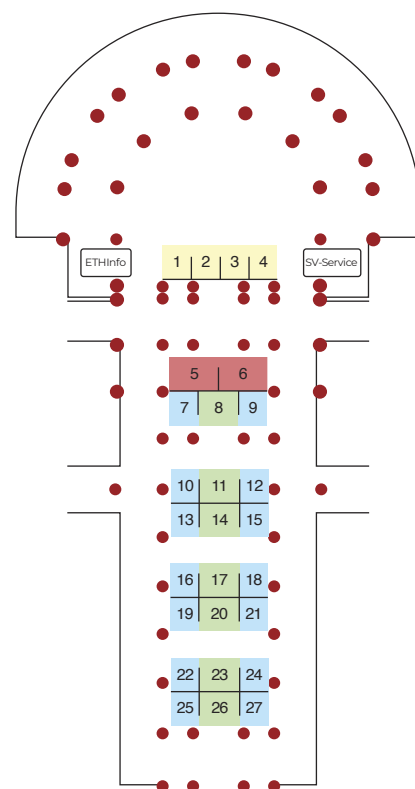

In addition to the fair, we host a series of talks as well as various interactive side events. These include workshops, mock interviews, hackathons, or a showcase of your work. Such an event offers the perfect opportunity to you to acquaint yourselves with potential employees in a personal environment.

For each talk, we offer a designated lecture hall at ETH, campus wide advertisement to students, and – upon agreement – a small apéro/refreshments for the attendees. Ideally, each talk should last around 45 minutes (to fit into the ETH schedule).

If your company is interested in hosting a talk or side event, our team will be happy to assist you with the organisation and implementation.

Becoming a Main Sponsor

Two companies have the opportunity to become main sponsors. As a main sponsor, your company gets an extra-large booth and will be prominently advertised: your company logo will appear on our website, the front of our fair guide, as well as on all advertisements.
